The Applied Art Building

In the Applied Art Building will be found the exhibits of Photography, Architecture, Graphic and Applied Art. The photographic section includes exhibits by the members of the Toronto Camera Club and the Ontario Photographers' Association. The architectural designs are contributed by the Ontario Association of Architects. The applied art section contains the exhibits of the Canadian Society of Applied Art and an interesting collection of pottery, jewelry, bronzes and other decorative works gathered in Great Britain. In the graphic arts department are exhibited the contributions of the Society of American Illustrators and the Associated Sunday Magazines of New York; a section containing the work of Canadian illustrators in the United States; a collection of British color prints, etchings, drawings and illustrations, and the Canadian section, including the exhibits of the members of the Society of Graphic Art, and a number of illustrations loaned by Canadian publishers.
